AGAINST THE RAINES BILL.

THE GOVERNOR'S HEARING TO THE MATORS OF THE CITIES.

Mayor Thacher of Albany Raises the Point that the Bill Is Unconstitutional—All of the Mayors Oppose the Bill Except Green of Binghamton and Odell of Newburgh, ALBANY, March 18. Gov. Morton gave his earing on the Raines bill to-day to the Mayors and representatives of the cities desiring to be heard. Among those present were Mayor E. B. Jewett of Buffalo, Mayor Tator of Hudson, County Judge Longley of Hudson, President C. A. Hult of Jamestown Common Council, Mayor Odell and President Robinson of the Newburgh Common Council, Mayor Gibson of Uties, Mayor Bookstaver of Dunkirk, Mayor Glesson of Long Island City, Corporation Counsel J. F. Cloonan of Kingston, ex-Mayor Wilson of Albany, Amasa J. Parker, Jr., counsel to the Excise Board of Albany, and Mayor McGuire of Syracuse. Mayor Greene of Binghamton, Ed-ward N. Smith, City Attorney of Watertown, nd Arthur Schoellkopf, representing the Mayor of Niagara Falls, were also present.

Gov. Morton asked how much time the Mayors thought necessary, and Mayor Thacher of Albany said that, speaking for himself, he would not need more than fifteen minutes. There were about auxteen other gentlemen present. He thought that an hour and a half would be consumed. The Governor asked if any were present in favor of the bill, or if they were all of one mind. Mayor Thacher said he could only speak for himself as to that.

The hearing was then opened with remarks by Mayor Thacher, who attacked the bill because of its unconstitutionality and because of the impropriety of the legislation it attempts. He said that the bill would be unconstitutional in that (1) It fixes license taxes which are not uniform on cities of the same class, and in that (2) it does not fix license taxes on all cities of the third class, and, therefore, it belongs to a class of laws which, in the exact words of the Constitu tion, "relate to a single city or to less than all the cities of a class." If the Constitution, he said, can be evaded by making divisions and classifications unrecognized by that instrument, it is certain that such subterfuges were not anticipated by its framers. The debates in the Constitutional Convention indicate that it was the intention that all general laws were t apply alike to cities of the same class, and that all special laws, or laws applicable in one or more cities of a class, but not in all, should be referred

Mayor Thacher also opposed the bill because violates the spirit of home rule, and takes from the cities a large proportion of revenue to which they are justly entitled. He maintained that be the tax high or low, the city that yields it is entitled to its proceeds, and its entire proceeds, is entitled to its proceeds, and its entire proceeds, to meet the expense occasioned by the business itself. He added:

"Another grave discrimination against home rule in small towns is discovered in section 18, where local option is permitted the latter. It is provided that the will of the qualified electors shall be ascertained. Mr. Raines does not care to ascertain the will of the qualified electors of the thirty-seven cities of the State. Nevertheless, their will some day will be ascertained. The people are not dumb. They can speak. They will speak."

less, their will some day will be ascertained. The people are not dumb. They can speak. They will speak."

Mayor Jewett of Buffalo said: "I beg to say with great earnestness that the people of the city of Buffalo, without distinction of party, are opposed to this bill. It is regarded as a vicious and objectionable measure, with no merits that are not greatly outbalanced by its faults. It is an impressive comment on the unpopularity of the measure that I have never heard of a single person in the city which I have the honor to represent who is infavor of it. It has been condemned in the Common Council by a unanimous vote, and there is not a newspaper published in Buffalo but what denounces It."

Mayor McGuire of Syracuse called attention to the almost unanimous sentiment against the bill, and said no labor organization, commercial body, or any other body of citizens had asked its passage. He thought the bill had an emanation from the Republican ring boss of the State, and he told the Governor that his election to the place of Chief Executive was due to the expressed will of the people as opposed to the bosses, and that dissatisfied Democrats assisted more in the election than the politicians of the Governor's party. Four of the six papers of Syracuse openly opposed the bill, and none favored it. The sentiment of the people was unanimous against it.

Mayor Gibson of Utica said the license fees provided for were not high enough to be called high license, and the bill was not satisfactory as a high license measure. In the city of Utica, as in Syracuse, a large proportion of all the license granted were granted to small storekeep-Mayor McGuire of Syracuse called attention as a high license measure. In the city of Utica, as in Syracuse, a large proportion of all the licenses granted were granted to small storekeepers. The bill threw these small storekeepers out, meaning bankruptoy to a large class of business concerns. Another provision which was criticised by Mayor Gibson was that which declared that no one could give away liquor on Sonday. This would make him a criminal, he said, if he offered a glass of wine to a friend at his table on the Babbath. The bill was an attack on vested rights and would effect the validity of many mortgages.

Mayor Patrick J. Glesson of Long Island City said the money from the licenses of the 500 salons of his city went to the poor fund, and there was no provision made by his local authorities to cover the deficiencies which would ensue if the license moneys were diverted this salons of his city went to the poor fund, and there was no provision made by his local antinorities to cover the deficiencies which would easue if the license moneys were diverted this year. The bill was demoralizing. His city was visited by many on their way to the scashore, and the bill proposed to abridge the means of entertainment provided for these people.

County Judge Longley, representing the Mayor of Hudson, also opposed the bill. He said that the principle of it was vicious, in that it sought to take from the cities the doctrine of home rule. He argued against the right of the State to take from the cities their revenues derived from excise licenses. If the State had this right, the national Government had an equal right to take away any of the revenue of New York State.

Mayor Bookstaver of Dunkirk opposed the bill, and said the Common Council, composed of four Republicans and four Democrats, was unitedly opposed to the bill. He hoped to see it vetoed. He read a telegram from Mayor Warner of Rochester, saying that he objected to the Raines Jill for the following reasons:

"There should be no division of the license money, the cities should have the lill: the bill compels our city to refund on July 1 $40,000 rebate on licenses issued. This money has been reserved by us and expended, and we should not be compelled to pay it back. Numerous of our business men, without respect to party, and representing millions of doilars, object to the bill. More time should have been given to persons engaged in keeping groceries with salons attached to close out their places so as to save themselves from loss. There should have been a lower license fee for the sale of ale and heer. The bill violates every principle of home rule and in that it deprives the city authorities of any says as to who shall or shall not have licenses, or any power to revoke the sale of ale and heer. RETALIATING ON THE HAYSEEDS Tax on the Hatnes Plan.

ALBANY, March 18. - Assemblyman Otto Kempner of New York city to-day introduced a bill with which he proposes to retaliate in a the cities as contemplated by the Raines bill. t provides for the division of the taxes colected from gifts, legacies, and collateral inher-tances among the countles of the State on the same basis as the liquor tax is divided twothirds to be retained by the counties for local purposes and one-third to be appropriated for purposes and one-third to be appropriated for State uses. Hitherto the entire collateral inheritance tax was allowed to go to the State. Mr. Kempner end to-day:

"A glance at the State Comptroller's report shows that in 1895 he received from this source $2,120,894. Under my bill the counties would divide among themselves $1,417,930. There are thirteen counties in the State that would each profit by this arrangement to the extent of about $13,000 as a minimum, up to about $750,000 for New York county as a maximum. Under the provisions of my bill, the share of the following New York county as a maximum. Under the provisions of my bill, the share of the following

STRONG ON THE RAINES BILL.

The Mayor Is Inclined to Dama the Meas ure with Paint Praise. Mayor Strong's attitude regarding the Raines bill has been so much of an enigma for the past month, and he has made so many declarations regarding it, that the following series of bul-letins expressing the Mayor's opinion regarding it has been posted in the room occupied by the City Hall reporters: 1 P. M. Mayor is opposed to Raines bill. 1:03 P. M. Mayor thinks Raines bill has some good points.

1.06% P. M.—Mayor thinks Raines bill has many ex-cellent features.

1.00 P. M.—Mayor considers the Raines bill the best thing going.
2 P. M. Mayor does not think any of the tninks

The above bulletins show the varying moods in which different reporters have found the Mayor. A new bulletin was added to this list yesterday, and as it is the very latest it is printed for what it is worth until a new one shall be issued:

Later—Mayor Strong is not in full accord with all the provisions of the Raines bill, but he is a Republican; the Raines bill is a Republican measure, and he believes that (for Morton should sign it. it is a Republican measure, and the party must assume all reponsibility for it. As a Republican in it is willing to take his share. He will not oppose its signing either in person or by representation, as he does not believe ite has any constitutional authority to do so, and invidually he does not care to. He thinks it is the best excise legislation obtainable at this time, although he deprecates some of its provisions, notably its discrimination arainst this city. He heartly approves of some of its measures, and wants it understood that he accepts it all because it is first of all a Republican party measure.

Comptroller Fitch sent this despatch to Gov. Morton yesterday:

If no other protest is received from the municipal officers elected by the people in this city against the Raines bill, ibeg respectfully to be allowed to present to the Governor that of the Pinance Department of this city and to add personally that I have never known so universal public condemnation of any bill among all parties and all clauses of citizens as exists in this city toward this unjust measure.

RILLS PASSED IN ALBANY. The Albany Police Bill Repassed Over the Mayor's Veto.

ALBANY, March 18.-The Albany Police bill, which legislates Mayor Thacher's Police Com-missioners and the entire police force, with one exception, out of office and places the appoint ment of the new Commissioners in the Common Council, was before the Assembly again to-day, having been returned with the disapproval of the Mayor.

Mr. Stanchfield, the Democratic leader, made a speech in opposition to it, and Messrs. Scherer and O'Grady spoke in its favor. It was repassed by a party vote, 86 to 49. It will probably be passed by the Senate to-morrow. It is known that Gov. Morton has not yet made up his mind whether he will sign it or not, but it is expected that he will do so.

The annual supply bill, which was almost torn to pieces last year, was passed by the Assembly to-day without dissent. In preparing it Mr. O'Grady kept Gov. Morton's injunction of economy constantly in mind, and the bill as passed carries appropriations amounting to only $790,000, as against $1,700,000 last year. Of this reduction $500,000 represents money drawn from the prison fund, so that the actual economy amounts to about $400,000.

Senator Sullivan, in speaking of the action of the committee, said: "When the bills are reported to-day I shall ask that they go to the order of third reading at once. There is no reason why we should not have cheaper gas in New York city. One dollar will allow of ample profit. The present price of $1.25 is altogether too high in view of the cost of production. Acetylene gas can be manufactured for twenty cents a thousand feet, and for my part I think if we fixed the price of gas at sixty cents a thousand a sufficient margin of profit would be provided for."

LAWMAKING AT TRENTON. Blennial Bessions Proposed, but "Ins" to TRENTON, March 18. - Senator Johnson offered this morning an amendment to the Constitution providing for blennial sessions, which will be considered by the Senate to-morrow, or on Friday, with the other amendments. It makes the term of the Governor four years after the expiration of the term of the present Governor. The terms of the Senators are extended to four years, and of the Assemblymen to two years. The Senators in office when the amendment goes into effect are to serve out their terms. The amendment adopted last year ended the terms of all Senators in office in January following the ratification of the amendment, and as nearly all are Republicans they were unwilling to take chances on regaining control.

This afternoon Senator Voorbees reported from the Judiciary Committee the amendments forbidding legislation legalizing lotteries, bookmaking, pool selling, or other gambling; forbidding the appointment to office during the recess of the Legislature of persons whom the Senate refused to confirm, and providing for dividing the larger counties into Assembly districts. Ex-Mayor Hewitt of Now York appeared be Lower promised to make the report at 4 o'clock. Hefore that time he had left his seat in the House and was said to be out of the city. Mr. Tiece, a member of the committee, reported the facts to the House and offered a resolution that Lower's desk be opened, so that the bill could be reported. The resolution was unanimously adopted, and Custodian Bonnell, with a duplicate key, opened the desk, got the bill, and it was reported favorably and placed upon the calendar.

There is a coolness existing between the Senate and House over the refusal of the former to return the bill repealing the Westchester Game Society charter and requiring non-residents to procure a license to hunt game in the State. It passed the House yesterday without opposition, and was returned at once to the Senate. This morning Mr. Robertson of Passaic wanted it reconsidered, as he had discovered, he says, that it required a separate license fee for each county. When he discovered that it had gone back to the Senate he offered a resolution for its recall, but the Senate by unanimous vote refused to honor the request. Senator Stokes, who introduced the bill, says that the Game Warden of Passaic county is trying to kill the bill, which has been before the Legislature for the past ten years, and has always been defeated by lobbyists, who carried their opposition so far as to defeat for reflection members who voted for it. The bill will go to the Governor, and the opposition will try to head it off there.

The Senate passed a bill which is said to be intended to secure the removal of Thomas Kelly, a Democratic Sergeant on the Jersey City police force. Senator fierbert explained that Kelly is in possession of evidence against green goods men, whom he is shielding, and that he refuses to testify against them and produce incriminating papers. The bill is designed to compel the production of the evidence. Senator Daily says there is nothing in the story, and that Mayor Wanser and the Jersey City police authorities are trying to get rid of Kelly because he is a Democrat and they want his place for a Republican.

The House passed bills fixing the second Tuesday in April as the date for municipal elections in Jercey City and Newark; the Jersey City Park bill; compelling trolley roads to maintain waiting rooms and transfer stations; fixing at two cents the toil on all ferries between Jersey City and New York.

GIGGLING MRS. CONNORS.

Truckman Wagner Falls to Prove that She Hondoord Him. Truckman Frederick Wagner of 180 Walla-bout street, Williamsburgh, took his whole family to the Lee Avenue Police Court yesterday in order to satisfy Justice Goetting that Mrs. Kate Connors, a neighbor and relative by marriage, is either a hoodoo or that she has an evil motive in following him about. He is over fifty years old. Mrs. Connors is about forty, and has five children. Wagner alleged that the woman never speaks, but only giggles, when she follows him. No matter where he goes. Wagner said, she is at his heels or in front of him. In court Wagner said: "I have a wife, so it can't be that Mrs. Connors is in love with me. Why, only last Saturday, night when I went to the barber's I looked back and saw her following me. I sneaked into the barber shop thinking that she wouldn't see me, but it was no use. There she stood in front of the shop looking at me through the show window."

Mrs. Connors sighed and said: "Why, I haven't spoken to that man in fifteen years, and to think that he would talk that way of me! I've been out in the street and seen him, but, goodness gracious, I never thought of annoying him."

Mrs. Connors's lawyer declared that Mrs. Connors could be accused of nothing but an innocent illustration, and that there was no harm in that.

Justice Goetting, in dismissing the summons. woman never speaks, but only giggles, when she Justice Goetting, in dismissing the summons, directed Mrs. Conners to let Wagner alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foote of Brooklyn read an advertisement in a newspaper of this city in December, 1894, offering a female child for adoption. They answered the advertisement, and subsequently called at a house on Forty-second street, obtained the child, and had her second street, obtained the child, and had her baptized as Lillian Foote. Recently a woman named Charlotte E. Wilson demanded the surrender of the iniant, who is now eighteen months old, but the Footes would not give the baby up. Mrs. Wilson applied to Justice Van Wyck in the Supreme tourt yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus to compet Mrs. Foote to currender the baby. The Footes claimed through their lawyer that they did not believe that Mrs. Wilson is the mother of the child, and asserted that she is not a fit person to have charge of the baby. She is now living in a tenoment house in Tenth street, this city. The case was sent to a referee.

NEW YORK'S POLICE FORCE

A BILL INTRODUCED TO INCREASE IT BY 800 MEN.

It Carries Out the Recommendation of Chief Coulin and In Endorsed by President Roosevelt-Bills Affecting the Fire Department Also Introduced at Albany, Atmany, March 18 -- A number of bills affecting New York city made their appearance in the two branches of the Legislature to-day. The most important of them provides for carrying out the recent recommendation of Chief Coulin that the police force be increased forthwith by 800 men. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Austin, Chairman of the Cities Committee, at the request of the Police Commissloners. It was transmitted to him by Commissioner Parker, who sent with it a copy of Chief Conlin's report and a letter from President Roosevelt setting forth the necessities for the increase. In his letter, President Roosevelt

"It is important to observe that the city of New York has been increasing in population for the last twenty years at an average rate of about 50,000 per annum. During this time the patrol force has increased by a little over 1,300, or one additional patrolman for every 700 additional population. In 1876 New York had one patrolman for every 475 of population; in 1896 it has but one patrolman for every 540 of population. In other words, the city of New York has to-day 14 per cent, less patrol force in proportion to its population than it had in 1876. Comparing the territory included within the city of New York at the present time and that included in 1876, a still greater deficiency appears. New York, therefore, is, and for some time has been, actually diminishing its effective city of New York at the present time and that included in 1876, a still greater deficiency appears. New York, therefore, is, and for some time has been, actually diminishing its effective police protection.

"The territory which was added to New York in 1895 embraces 14,080 square acres, and has 67% miles of streets and avenues which it is the duty of this department to patrol. The utter impossibility of covering this precinct with the 38 patrolinen new on duty in that territory appears without further comment. At most but 10 men are on duty at one time, making an average of nearly four miles of streets for each patrolina. Somewhat similar conditions, aithough not so extreme, exist in other precincts, which have been established for a number of years, there are posts of twenty, thirty, and even forty blocks in length.

"To meet the prospective increased population in the city, the law permits an increase of 100 patrolinen in each year, provided the Board of Estimate and Apportionment makes the necessary appropriation therefor. The average increase per year for the last twenty years has been about seventy. Had the patrol force been increased as anticipated by the law during the past the twenty years, and in proportion to the growth of the city, the patrol force would now be over 4,200, instead of 3,584, as at present. The increase which is recommended by the Chief is, therefore, but slightly more than that which the law contemplated to meet the gradual growth of the city. Even with this addition, the patrol force would be far less in proportion to the population than in any or all of the large European cities."

The Police Board has asked for a hearing upon the bill, and at their request it has been set down for to-morrow. President Roosevelt has signified his intention of appearing to advocate the measure.

STOPPED AND ACCOSTED WOMEN. A Negro Who, Some Think, May Prove to Be Monte Suiltvan's Murderer,

Richard Scott, a negro, was arrested on Tuesday night in Jersey City, and some persons think it possible that he may prove to be the murderer of Mamie Sullivan, who was killed in Paterson two weeks ago. Chief of Police Murphy says that Scott acts like a man who has a big load on his mind.

Scott, who is about 26 years old, first attracted attention about 7:30 P. M. on Tuesday. A married daughter of Andrew Coon, who keeps a grocery at Summit avenue and Newkirk street, ran breathless and very much frightened into her father's store. When she recovered enough breath to be able to speak she said that a villainous-looking negro had followed her for two or three blocks and attempted to speak to her. "I was so dreadfully frightened." sie said. "that I was a fraid I would never reach here." J. H. Crawford, a special officer who happened to be in the store, started out to look for the negro. About two blocks away, in Summit avenue, Crawford saw a colored man who answered the description of the man and followed him. That he was the same man soon became evident. Crawford saw two women who were coming in the opposite direction run out in the street as the nexro approached them, and one of them screamed when the negro turned and looked at her. Half a block further on the negro accosted another woman, and she ran away screaming. Near sip avenue the negro saw a woman coming toward him, and he hid behind a tree. When the woman got opposite to the tree he jumped out and attempted to grab her. The woman shrieked and leaped from the sidewalk into the street, regardless of the slush, and scurried across to the other side. The negro kept along through Sip avenue to Summit avenue, and was about to ascend the stens leading to the elevated station at Pavonia avenue when Sergeant Solomon from the Oakland avenue police station happened along, and he and Crawford took the negro into outdoy.

He was locked up in the Oakland avenue when for took the negro into outdoy.

He was locked up in the Oakland avenue station on the charge of being a discorderly person. Yesterday moruling he was taken to Chief vurphy's office and questioned. He first said that he lived in Eighty-second street, this city. Afterward he told the Chief that he lived at 1.110 North Seventeenth street, Kichmond, Va. Chief Murphy telegraphed to the Richmond in fourteen years. The prisoner them said that he came North two weeks ago, and that he had been in Newark and Paterson looking for work. He admitted having accosted the women he met on Tuesday evening, but said that he had no intention of inarming or frightening them.

SUPERINTENDENT SMITH'S TRIAL.

Alcott Tells the Fire Board that the Charges Were Made for Spite. The Fire Board met yesterday morning and considered the case of J. Elliott Smith, superintendent of the fire alarm telegraph, who has tendent of the fire alarm telegraph, who has been under investigation for several months. Lawyer J. V. Olcott submitted a brief, in which he defends Smith from the charges made against him by Edward A. Callahan, the expect employed by the Fire Commissioners. Olcott says that the only evidence against Smith was furnished by the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company, which was actuated by a spirit of jealousy because a rival company had secured contracts. The investigation was closed, and the Commissioners have taken the matter under consideration, and will render their decision possibly in two weeks. eration, and will render their decision powers.

The physicians of the Fire Department have finished their examination of the officers pre-liminary to their classification in four different grades, according to their physical condition. One hundred and ten officers were found to be excellent, 47 fair, 18 poor, and 17 unit.
